IMPROVING PRACTICE IN OBGYN

OVERVIEW

The 2017 Improving Practice in OBGYN Annual Symposium once again has assembled a group of experts who will be speaking on a wide range of topics, including ovarian cancer, polycystic ovarian syndrome, breast arterial calcifications (BAC) as well as DVT and diabetes in pregnancy. As leaders in their field, their published work has led to practice changes which have improved patient care in obstetrics and gynecology. Lastly, the symposium agenda provides excellent education for the entire inter-professional care team in OBGYN.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the end of this course, participants should be able to:

- Identify the components and maximize the value of the annual health visit
- Explain changes in ovarian cancer treatment
- Review targeted therapeutics in ovarian cancer
- Define breast arterial calcifications (BAC)
- Demonstrate why BAC's and their detection may be important
- Interpret the effect of hormones on women's sleep and moods
- Identify and treat common sleep disorders that women experience during pregnancy and menopause

COMPETENCIES ADDRESSED

- Patient Care
- Medical Knowledge
- Practice-based learning and improvement

TARGET AUDIENCE
